Matthew Hilger has been playing poker online successfully for the last few years. He has done well in live tournaments, too. He made the money and placed 33rd in the 2004 World Series of Poker and won the 2002 New Zealand Poker Championship. He started playing poker in college and improved his game while in graduate school.

When he took a job with Chiquita Foods in Costa Rica, he began playing in weekly tournaments at the local casino. Little did he know he played and even won against some of the best players in the world like Humberto Brenes. He started to play online after he transferred to Argentina, where gambling is illegal.

From those experiences to today, he shares what he has learned from playing over seven thousand hours online in his book, Internet Texas Hold'em: Winning Strategies from an Internet Pro, which specifically focuses on limit Texas Hold'em. If you are thinking about playing on the internet, this is the book for you.

Hilger's book is roughly broken into nine sections. During the first three, "The Introduction," "Poker Concepts," and "Starting Hands," he gives a general overview about poker which is beneficial to any new player. He includes a few definitions and familiarizes the reader with internet jargon. The charts and graphs he includes are easy to read and he suggests printing them out and keeping them next to the computer while playing.

Hilger spends almost 100 pages discussing the flop. He breaks down the concept further by discussing flopping the nuts, sets/trips, two pair, top pair/overpair, middle/bottom pairs, flush and straight draws, overcards, and my favorite... trash hands.
