Black Ops was first officially unveiled when the website for the game went live on April 30, 2010[34] prior to the release of its debut teaser trailer on GameTrailers TV Episode 310.[66] In early April 2010, an unmarked envelope was sent to various gaming news publications as well as high-profile Call of Duty fans via mail. It contained a USB flash drive with sound and text files. These files were codes to be decrypted, only to find a mysterious teaser site for an unknown game. Other codes were updated periodically.
